Note on data protection § 86 Residence Act collection of personal data:
The authorities charged with the execution of this Act may collect personal data for the purposes of implementing this act and provisions relating to foreigners contained in other acts, insofar as this is necessary in discharging their duties under this Act and provisions relating to foreigners contained in other acts.

Declaration

Legal basis §§ 28, 30 Residence Act (AufenthG)

I, _____, date of birth _____, (surname, forename of the foreign national) do hereby declare that I married Ms/Mr _____, date of birth _____, in _____

on _____.
(date of marriage)

In this connection I further declare that our joint place of residence – as recorded in the registration documents – is situated at

_____
(street, house number, postcode, town)

I expressly declare

- That my spouse and I live together at the above address, which is our main place of residence and marital home
- My spouse and I have no other address (and no secondary residence)
- That divorce proceedings are neither pending nor currently planned

I will report any change in the above living arrangements within 7 days to the immigration authority of Frankfurt (Oder).

The sole purpose of my marriage was to establish a lifelong union.

I am aware that I will be prosecuted under § 95 para. 2 no. 2 of the Residence Act if I knowingly provide inaccurate or incomplete information and have procured a residence title as a result.

It has duly been pointed out to me that I may in principle only expect my residence title to be extended if the marriage remains in force and I continue to live with my spouse. The period of validity of the residence title issued to me in accordance with § 7 para. 2 of the Residence Act may be limited with retrospective effect if the grounds for its being issued/extended have ceased to apply.
