

The European University Viadrina is an international and interdisciplinary university that educates around 4,000 students from all over the world in law, economics and cultural studies programmes in the twin city of Frankfurt (Oder)-Śluby on the Polish and German sides of the Oder. It celebrates the European idea in everyday life, promotes European integration in teaching and research and, with around 300 academic and 300 non-academic employees, forms a community that is particularly concerned with successful communication and cooperation with Eastern Europe.

At the Viadrina Center of Polish and Ukrainian Studies, the Professorship for Interdisciplinary Polish Studies is seeking an accomplished individual to join our research team as a

Research Assistant Postdoc (f/m/d/x)
Identification Number: 1414-25-01
(up to salary group 13 TV-L, 40 hours/week)

This is a fixed-term position of 6 years up to the 31.12.2031. A part-time agreement is possible by arrangement.

The VCPU focuses on interdisciplinary research into Polish and Ukrainian history and the present, as well as on communicating scientifically sound and up-to-date knowledge about Poland and Ukraine to the public.

Responsibilities | Your tasks:

- Work on your own research project (postdoc) in the field of economics and/or economic and/or social history East Central Europe
- Support the Centre's research activities in the field of Polish studies
- Teaching in English for 4 semester hours per week
- Participation in planned study programmes and summer schools on East Central Europe as well as academic events of the VCPU
- Supervision of student theses

Qualifications | Your qualifications profile:

- A doctorate in the field of economics and/or economic and/or social history of East Central Europe
- Language skills: fluency in spoken and written German and English (C1-C2), fluency in spoken and written Polish (C1-C2), knowledge of other Slavic languages is an advantage
- Experience in science management and teaching
- Intercultural skills, deepened through internships or research stays abroad, preferably in East Central Europe
- Communication and teamwork skills

Please send your application with the usual documents (letter of motivation, CV, certificates) by 31 July 2025 as a PDF file to: bewerbung@europa-uni.de quoting the above-mentioned reference number (the file will be deleted immediately after the selection procedure has been completed).

If you have any questions about the position, please send an e-mail directly to the Managing Director of the VCPU, Mr Marek Kłodnicki klodnicki@europa-uni.de. The interviews are expected to take place on 14.10.2025.

Further information on our vacancies and our HR policy can be found on our website. The European University Viadrina is committed to diversity and equality for all employees and observes all relevant equality and inclusion measures in the application process.

Please see www.europa-uni.de/stellenangebote for further information.